Hi Marissa,

Couple of comments: Regarding BASF, I had 51 drums of their chems at Abrachem, many of which were labelled "Frey Industries, Acct. of BASF Corporation, 29 Riverside Ave...". But the person I was working with at BASF was a guy in their Florham Park, NJ office, named Dave White. I think he may be a better contact for the 104(e) because he knew all about the Frey drums. BASF got rid of 3 drums of boron trifluoride, but EPA disposed of the rest of their chems.

Secondly, I have another company which I think should be on the list, it's called Baron-Blakeslee. They sublet space at 29 Riverside and operated a business there when Ted Frey operated the Site as Frey Industries. They made carbon adsorption units and we had a number of their drums of waste activated carbon (contaminated with solvent) at Abrachem, so I believe that they would be generators. They will also be considered PRPs for Abrachem. I gave you their address last month when I first got involved with the site and I recommend that they be added to the list of 104(e) recipients.

When you get the responses pls give me copies for my files. Thanks,

Paul
